1 Mark Q.4

Banham statement - "The sovereign power of creating laws should be vested on to guarantee the rights of individuals and can't be used to secure the common good."

In some the power should be used to make sure everyone's right and the enjoyment of life get just to force one somebody.

but while creating it also need to make clear every individual is the king and enjoying the right, so don't be divided class and system.

5 Rule of Expressio unius est Exclusio Alterius

Write all the relevant provisions as required in the answer and provide the conclusion properly in clear language with proper reasoning to attain more marks.

It means that express mention of one thing in a statute, when things are specifically mentioned in a list, it means all others are excluded from it. This is usually indicated as "includes" or "such as". This rule is also known as the negative implication rule.

1.5 Marks

This a statute granting certain rights to "police, fire and sanitation employees" would be interpreted to exclude other public employees not enumerated from the legislation. This is based on presumed legislative intent and where for some reason this intent cannot be reasonably inferred the Court is free to draw a different conclusion.

The general meaning of "expression of one thing is the exclusion of another" is also known as the negative implication rule. This rule assumes that the legislature intentionally specified one set of criteria as opposed to the other. Therefore, if the issue to be decided addresses an item not specifically named in the statute, it must be assumed the statute does not apply.
